

Grandquist Concert at The Mable Tainter: Information and Guidelines

Alcohol: No alcoholic beverages are allowed during this performance.

Smoking: Smoking is prohibited in all areas and spaces within the building.

Parking: Parking the day of the concert is available in The Mable Tainter parking lot adjacent to the building. After 5:00 pm, parking is available in the Dairy State Bank parking lot which is adjacent to the rear of Mable (except for three clearly marked stalls that state “No parking at Any Time.”)

Damage/Loss/Liability: Each person in attendance is responsible for their own conduct. Any loss or damage to any display, or property within the Mable Building will be sole responsibility of the individual who caused the damage. This includes all fees associated with replacement or restoration costs. The Neighborhood and Occupational Chaplains of America are not responsible in any way for your personal choices or conduct.

Where to go: People come from all around the world come to tour the incredible Mable Tainter Theatre. However, tours are not part of this concert event. Please refrain from “wandering” as there is another event happening in the building that evening. Please make your way to the Theatre only and exit the building when the concert is complete. We will have ushers happily assisting our concert group.

Doors will open at 6:40 pm: The first three rows in the theatre are already reserved. Other than that, you will have your choice of seating. This theatre is designed so that every seat is a great seat. Wherever you choose to sit, you will feel intimately close to the action.

What to expect: We appreciate your attendance and encourage your participation. This will be a unique evening that you will not soon forget. There will be prizes and surprises! Come expecting a spiritually charged atmosphere from a world-famous recording artist! You will absolutely be blessed. You will learn things that you did not know. You may win prizes. You will laugh and probably cry. You will be talking about this event far into the future!
